WE NOMINATE

William Bruce McKinney, 18-year old organizer, part-time administrator and conductor of the newly instituted Princeton Community Band which this Friday evening—against the back-drop of Nassau Hall—will present the first in a series of three summer concerts designed for Greater Princeton's "listening pleasure." This latest community venture, a refreshing throwback to the serene decades when whole towns used to rock to the refrain of "Come on and hear," is being inaugurated with the joint financial backing of the Borough and Township Fathers and is providing long-sought outlets for the energies and interests of musical enthusiasts ranging in years from the 'teens to the 40's.

Behind the project lies nearly a year of planning and long weeks of thoughtful work. Encouraged by members of the Princeton High School Faculty, and with the help of established musical organizations, McKinney started rounding up his volunteers in the early spring. By the first evening rehearsal on June 25 at the High School, where rehearsals will continue on a twice-a-week basis throughout the summer months, the concert band had attained its present strength of approximately 50 members. Half of the group has been drawn from the High School but the others represent Princeton, Rutgers and Penn State Universities, Deerfield Academy and the Peddie Institute and a half-dozen municipalities in the Princeton environs.

A ranking member of the High School Class of 1956 and now standing well up in his studies as a newly qualified Princeton University sophomore, McKinney is a topnotch trumpeter who during the past year has helped bolster five local musical units—the Princeton Symphony Orchestra, the University Band and Orchestra, an undergraduate jazz combination and the Savoyards. Undecided as to whether or not to "major" in Mathematics or Music, two departments of study between which there is a curious and striking affinity, McKinney this summer is devoting his "spare time" to a voluntary course in "Elementary Harmony and Counterpoint" so that he may avoid apparent course-conflicts in the academic year ahead. '

The first son to follow his mother, a gifted pianist, on to Town Topics' front page, and the son of a research chemist with the Armstrong Cork Company, McKinney—unlike many young men with a driving interest—is an extremely well balanced individual, combining a plethora of activities with music. In his senior High School year, for instance, he managed the baseball team, presided over the chess club and served as student conductor of the school band. This Pittsburgh-born Princetonian, a community rooter since he entered the Valley Road School in 1944, is currently contemplating a teaching career, on either the college or secondary school levels, and, when listing special interests, will mention sailing, swimming, "some cooking," reading in the field of history and outdoor life in general.

For adding to Princeton's pleasures in the "good old summertime;" for actually succeeding in enlisting the enthusiastic support of the Borough Mayor and Council and the Township Committee; for helping provide additional opportunities for talented music-makers; he is Town Topics' nominee for

TAX BILLS HIT HOME

Signs of Protest. Though little of the discontent over taxes in Princeton Township had reached the surface in the first week since the new 1957 bills were sent, there are signs that a fundamental change is occurring as the implications of the new tax structure are understood.

On the one hand, Township residents who received large increases in their taxes have revived attacks on the recent revaluation at 100% of true value. There is talk of protest and appeal in large numbers and the appraisal of land at new, greatly enhanced rates is a focal point of attack.

This is viewed in many quarters as a natural result of the tax readjustments of this year, or as just plain "grinding" at the effects of the apparently inevitable cost spiral. The Township Committee's letter which accompanied the current tax bills has also minimized complaints about Township taxes in relation to other communities and about the actual sharing of the tax dollar between the school system, Mercer County and local government.

On the other hand, reports have been growing of Township home and land owners who feel they are being "squeezed out of the community." Many of them are in the more or less fixed-income group and many others are in education in Princeton.

The steady rise of land values here (reflected, naturally, in the new assessments) and the pattern of increase in school and government requirements each year in the foreseeable future have caused landowners to hesitate in building. A slight movement is also noticeable towards selling existing homes and leaving Princeton.

"The Squeeze" thus appears to be an increasingly serious problem for younger people in the research and educational fields and tax rates may be only still another force in altering the essential character of the town.

Appeals Procedure. At the first of the week, few calls and no checks written "under protest" had been received at the Township Tax Office. Property owners have until August 15 to appeal.

The appeal procedure: a letter must be written asking for an appeal application form to the Mercer County Tax Board, County Courthouse, Trenton. The completed application must be returned to the County Tax Board by the August 15 deadline.

HOUSING REPORT BACKED

Goheen, Mackay Concur. Last week's report by the Mayor's Advisory Committee on Housing has drawn support for its basic principles from two of Princeton's best-known educators. Dr. Robert F. Goheen, newly-inducted President of the University, and Dr. John A. Mackay, Seminary President, have spoken in favor of the committee's fundamental ideology.

The report appraised the need for improved housing in the John-Wilherspoon Street area, and considered in its conclusion "the almost insuperable difficulties Negroes face in securing alternate housing in Princeton." Attacking the "residential containment of Negro citizens," the committee declared that this community must "set an example of equality of opportunity in all aspects of its social and economic life."

Dr. Goheen, who was inducted as president of the university on July 1, said, "I feel strongly with the Mayor's Advisory Committee, on which several members of the University administration and faculty served, that it is impossible to justify the 'residential containment' of any minority group." He declared that "this community, in which education and research are the only major industries, should constantly seek to stand as an exemplar of the American ideals of democracy and equity."

Dr. Mackay, president of the seminary, felt that the committee report coincided with his belief that "nobody should be presented from locating on a given piece of ground on the basis of race, culture or religion. All residents should be free to move where they want to and are able to."

He pointed out, however, that "mere physical contiguity between peoples of different origins doesn't solve the problem. It would be naive to think so." He said it was necessary for a feeling of spiritual community to develop which can only come about once meetings in common have been established.

Dr. Mackay also emphasized that peoples of similar origins like to live near each other. "It's not simply a question of civic rights." He said Negro families like to live near other Negro families in the same manner "that Scotchmen abroad like the company of other Scotchmen. What is wanted, he declared, is equality of opportunity."

Good Sounding Board. Mayor Sturges to whom the report was directed felt that the committee "has been a good sounding board" —Continued on Page 2

RAINCOATS AND VITAMINS

You usually buy a raincoat at the clothing store you've patronized for years. If some unknown manufacturer offers you a big saving, and you take a chance, and the coat turns out to leak . . . well, not too much harm is done. You get wet. You throw away the coat and go back to the store you know.

You can't do the same with vitamins. Nobody takes a chance on health—his own or his family's.

When you buy vitamins, choose one of the absolutely reliable, nationally-known brands we feature. This is basic health insurance. Our pharmacists and specially-trained clerks are qualified to answer many of your questions about vitamin supplements to the diet. In some cases, of course, it is necessary to consult a physician.

In no case is it safe to chance the quality of the vitamins you take. If any member of your family takes vitamins, visit our well-stocked and professionally-supervised vitamin department soon.

PROGRESS REPORT

Avalon Coming Down, Y Up. To everyone's surprise this week told the Princeton Community that its long-awaited new YMCA-YWCA building is finally entered the brick-and-mortar stage, creating an optimistic situation at last.

The first was a cautious statement from the trustees of the joint board which covered the two buildings of the site, and the second was activity within Avalon which proved to be certain interior progress for the Van Dyke family, long-time holders of the site where the new YM-YW structure will rise.

The trustees met Monday evening and issued the following statement:

"The trustees of the YMCA-YWCA authorized proceeding with the construction of the YMCA-YWCA building, including the social unit (activities center unit) and the swimming pool-locker units, leaving the internal equipment of the pool and locker room for construction later when funds are available."

"The awarding of the contract was deferred pending final negotiations with contractors. A contract was signed for the demolition of Avalon. Plans are being formulated for a drive for funds to complete the project."

Final negotiations with the contractors will apparently determine how far for the $500,000 on hand the trustees will go inwards completing the structure.

It is understood that the trustees may be able to furnish up to $100,000 more in the next few days along with more extensive details of the structure which is now apparently finally becoming a reality.

After the completion of the five contractors, it was learned, only one of them from Princeton. Those under consideration are Lewis, Becker & Sons, Schmitt, Ehrst, Iron and Reynolds, Mahoney-Trost and John W. Ryan. A decision on the selection of the contractor is expected after the demolition of Avalon is completed.

PERSONALITIES

George F. P. Originally interested in owning clocks with unusual faces, he turned to chess boards and players, now has one thousand varied collections in existence. (For pictures and story, see page 14).

Mario Siletti, University Player, who has staged lively performances of "William Tell," "The Skin of Our Teeth" currently at Murray Theatre. He is by now a favorite of long standing with Princeton audiences, having performed in a variety of plays written for many and varied productions. (For News of the Theatres, see Pages 6 and 10).

TOPICS Of the Town

BOROUGH COUNCIL

Municipal Kaleidoscope. "If we were to raise the fee for dog license by $1, it would cost us to hire a hall for the crowd, but for a $174,500 bond issue no one turns out," spoke Mayor Sturges at the close of the hearing, the bond ornamenteing the enable the Borough to proceed with the acquisition and development of the "Public Service Parking Yard" on the Witherspoon-Wiggin area.

The lone dissent when it came to approving the purchase of the 10-acre lot from Public Service, a move strongly endorsed by the Princeton Business Association and the Mayor's Advisory Committee on Parking was Lawrence R. Sturges of Harrison Street, who stoutly questioned the wisdom of Mayor and Council in "penalizing" Borough taxpayers in order to "provide parking for residents."

In reply to Mr. Dupraz's contention that it would be better to foster more car-producing commerce and develop residential areas to create additional off-street parking in the downtown business section, Mayor Sturges emphasized the importance of strengthening the business base in the face of ever-mounting competition, and pointed out that the Borough in acquiring the strategic plot is bound to dedicate it to "public-use purposes."

"War of Roses." As reported a month ago, the fate of 154-year old Rose Cottage continues to hang in the balance with Mayor and Council awaiting word from the Trustees of the Swann Estate (George Knaefel and David R. Winans) widely varying builders' estimates ranging from $10,000 to $60,000, on what would be involved in making the sprawling cottage structurally sound.

The estimated cost of repairs with present structural conditions and prepared at the behest of the officers of the Princeton Cooperative Nursery School, will be accompanied by a strong letter from the June 15 meeting of the Committee urging the preservation of the building as a proper meeting place for any number of Princeton organizations.

It may be brought out that a variety of groups many of which have never before expressed an interest in maintaining the one-story building located between Borough Hall and the High School would be interested in taking advantage of the Cottage's facilities. Among those cited were the Republican and Democratic Clubs, the League of Women Voters, the Jaycees, and several dancing schools.

Out of the Rose Cottage discussions came a divergent view from a communications point of view. Maurice A. Mather conjured up the 15-year old Community House proposal in a community "certainly big enough to have such a facility," while Dan D. Coyle once more advocated the possibility of installing Mayor and Council as Trustees of the Swann Estate under which Borough Hall, adjacent buildings and

Defense Test Friday

All residents of New Jersey, as New York and Pennsylvania, will be required to participate Friday in "Operation Alert 1957." All municipalities and county civil defense organizations have received sealed envelopes which they will open following the alert signal to learn the exact location of a assumed bomb burst.

The public's first awareness of the drill will come with the alert—a steady three-minute blast on sirens at which radios and television sets will receive official civil defense instructions. About an hour later, a warbling three-minute siren will direct the public to take shelter.

In past drills, all traffic will come to halt and all streets will be cleared of pedestrians. After a period of some minutes, repetition of the steady siren blast will indicate that it is safe to leave shelter.

property were bequeathed "to the people of Princeton."

Other Developments. Among the highlights of the murky evening in the newly-painted council chambers were the following:

- Approval of specifications for the construction of long-awaited Avalanche Place, a project scheduled for fall completion.

Strong protest from J. Taylor Woodward of Lodge Road, about existing parking regulations on Lodge Road. Mr. Woodward feels that parking should be limited to one side of the artery and not accommodate two hours.

- Mayor Sturges' comments about the inaccuracies contained in the Township's recent letter to Times Herald newspapers, particularly the omission of mention of "sewer and garbage charges."
- Confirmation of the election of Michael C. Kopiner Jr., 15 Park Place, to membership in Mercer Engine Company No. 3.

ROAD FEAST

Many More in Township. Princeton Township's road system needs great improvement in runner hours. Four more streets were added at Monday's Township Committee meeting and a countryside full of additional thoroughfares is nearing municipal status.

Prospects for future roads also revealed that Princeton University's present plan for sub-division of Sycamore and Prospect Streets is unacceptable. Mayor Ralph S. Mason announced that the Planning Board at its meeting last week passed a resolution outlining complete and extension of three roads, Sycamore, Prospect and Lake Drive, on the Master Plan.

The Mayor's announcement was in response to a letter from Sterling H. Anders, 601 Lake Drive, requesting the opening of the streets involved. Mayor Mason pointed out the present total road improvement made did not provide for any of the work this year, but said the eventual sequence would see Sycamore, Lake Drive and then Prospect opened. The roads accepted were Knoll Drive, Dogwood Lane, part of Russell Road, and Hillside Road, the latter also requiring improvements costing $3,950. In addition, Abbot Avenue, Drive and Magnolia Lane were added to the list of roads to be opened.

Pardee Circle were referred for study by the engineer before acceptance.

The committee also heard inquiries on the possibility of acceptance of the number of streets which are now available inicipal status. They were Dempsey Avenue south of Couley; River-side, Lake Drive, Longview and other streets in the Riverside area.

Still other road action involved discussions of improving the warning devices, application to Stony Brook Bridge on the Pike and the passing by resolution of two Township road specifications. One involved the placing of curbs on dirt and sand approaches to the Township Engineer to call for a dust palliative on unsurfaced roads and areas. The palliative is a mixture of calcium chloride. Action on the Mt. Lucas sewer was postponed.

In other action, the committee approved transfer of the C-2 highway license of Mrs. Almira Pirone to Felix Cencirno, 51 Leigh Avenue. The premises involved are at Birch Avenue.

UNIVERSITY PLAYERS

(A review of "The Skin of Our Teeth" appears on Page 10 of this issue. The Thornton Wilder comedy continues through Saturday night at Murray Theatre.)

"Heartbreak House," one of Bernard Shaw's best string plays, will follow "The Skin of Our Teeth" into Murray Theatre on the University Campus. The University Players will perform the third production of the current season from Tuesday, July 16, through Saturday, July 20.

The emphasis will shift from Wilder's broad comedy to one with a picture similar to one of GBS' finest creations. The characters of "Heartbreak House" dissect each other's faults and eccentricities in a society of social indifference and indifference of England's leisure class prior to World War I. The uncultured practicality of the politicians and the cultured members of the arts and this, and the sharp separation between culture and power is presented as an important cause of the war.

Shaw's finest touches of compassion are present, however, as he carries out his relentless attack. "Heartbreak House" has long been considered one of his most witty and thought-provoking plays.

Donald Moffat, who has appeared with the Old Vic Company, will direct the play, as Captain Shower, a patriarch with Shevian touches of eccentric thought and speech.

Lelia Barry will appear as Ellie.

practical. Miss Barry has performed many leading roles for

University Players and the University. Among them are Cola in

"As You Like It," Isabelle in

"Ring Round The Moon" and

Alice in "Alice in Wonderland".

Mario Siletti, also a mainstay of the group in past seasons, will appear as Hector Hushabye, a typical inhabitant of Heartbreak House whose exquiste flights of imagination are finally an escape from the world.

Peggy Allison will join the company as Lady Utterwoode, older Carolean. Mrs. Allison played

Rosalind in AYL last year, Ju-ciple" and Ariel in "The Tempest"

THE PLAYHOUSE

Something of Value (July 11-13) turns out to be just that, though it diamond in the rough. Taken from Richard Brooks' good book, the circumlocution stresses the drama of the story of Mau Mau terror in Africa rather than the social and political complexities of the story line, but a bad Hollywood move, since the latter could have been difficult to convey, but it does create a variety of situations which direction by scenario writer Richard Brooks is the only reason much of the dramatic endeavor doesn't seem too contrived and trite.

Rock Hudson continues to command attention as a British colonial farmer who knows his native land. Daniel Day-Lewis is the spirit of summer as his fiancee, then wife; however, the real acting lauds go to Sidney Poitier, cast as a Mau Mau leader who eventually realizes the futility of solving the problem by violence. There are adequate numbers of thrills for everyone, with Ruark's gory details, and, while black-and-white is easily used to effect or other, the African setting would have looked great in color.

The Prince and the Showgirl (July 14-20), based on Terence Rattigan's famous play "The Sleeping Prince" (seen at McCarter Theatre last fall, then briefly on Broadway), is the same slight story of a British research worker who falls in love with Milwaukee chorus girl and winds up being wowed by her instead. Several new ingredients have been added, however, which make the movie a far more appealing production than the stage version; in fact, it turns out to be a truly enchanting, world-wide production, antidote to a quiet mid-July evening in Princeton (though it may be questioned by many cinemaddicts why any offering must be retained over the summer at the town's sole summer house).

The major contribution to Mr. Rattigan's script is Laurence Olivier, who exerts his motion

McCarter Speculation

The general theater public will probably be strongly affected by the serious consideration of a return to the place of McCarter Theatre in the community and in the University.

It is evident that the theatre will almost immediately have to move into a phase of increased use, booking etc. A likely guess is that Princeton University may soon decide for or against an expensive item such as air conditioning for a complete summer programing, as well as maintenance of the structure. Observers here have long felt that a 600-seat theatre would offer a happier situation than the McCarter or the tiny Murray. The possibility still exists that such an auditorium would form a natural part of a new planned University center.

The fundamental problem still seems to be that of nourishing a real theatrical audience, which distinguishes between the various "entertainment" offerings, and yet willing to see purely Princeton productions of drama classics.

picture generally per usual — on three fronts. He excels as the stuffy prince, of 1911 vintage, and his gifted touch as director-producer is ever-apparent. Then, of course, there is the Lubitsch, the unlikely costar, Marilyn Monroe, who neatly fills the bill (as well as an eye-catching gown) in the role of Miss chorine, Miss 1940. The shirley is in a wonderful advantage, thanks largely to the manner in which she has been guided by her talented director. The most important thing cast is fine and the Technicolor proves significant because it gives the pomp and lack-of-eccentric stance a much-needed bright hue.

ANOTHER BIG ROLE: Rock Hudson follows his hit in "Giant" with another big role in M.G.M.'s "Something of Value," playing through Saturday at the Princeton Playhouse.

The show stars Jack Cassidy, Beatrice Arthur and Lester Ferguson, along with Louis Hoffman, John Cullum and Eugene Sims. The libretto is by Ira Wallach and Ezra Stone is the director.

The plot, handled for comic and risque overtones, is based on Carlo Goldoni's oldie "La Locandiera." The costumes and decor have been kept in the 18th Century, but author has had added to the story additional characters and much of the plot structure, but the story has been completely rewritten.

Don Walker's name has appeared as arranger on numerous Broadway productions and television shows. Among the shows for which he has arranged are "The Music Man," "Giant Peach," "Carousel," "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes," "Wish You Were Here," "Call Me Madam," "Wonderful Town," "The Pajama Game," "Silk Stockings," "Damn Yankees" and "The Most Happy Fella."

At 2:00 p.m. today, July 11, the Student Patriotic Society will present "The Magic Shoes," a play with music and dancing for children at the Buck's Playhouse. Gracieanne Schweitzer, who danced in the famous "Broadway Baby" performance in London at the Metropolitan Opera House, Tickets are 50c.

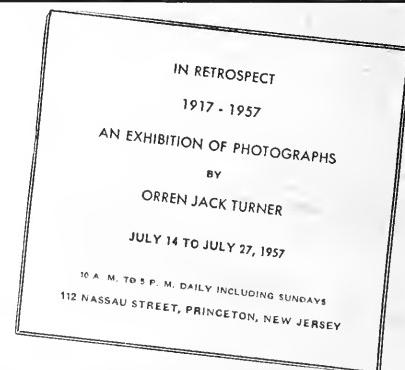

William Smithers and Sally Kemp head the cast which is repeating the success of Miller's latest play, "The Man Who Had All the Luck," which will be the next attraction, opening July 22.

MUSIC CIRCUS

"Oklahoma!" runs through this coming Sunday evening at the Music Circus in Lambertville. The first of the great Rodgers and Hammerstein successes stars James Hurst as Curley, Jackie McKeever as Laurette and Virginia Martin as Ado Annie.

The next attraction at the tented-in-the-round stage will be "Plain and Fancy," which will run from July 16 through July 28.

IT'S NEW To Us

POUND OF FLESH
Figure Out! Slenderette with a tape measure and a "fairy for figures has said that American women lost 4,500,000 inches last year and 3,500,000 pounds—collectively.

We do not have the local figures on this matter, but we have been in close touch with an enterprise in Hightstown called Slenderette. They have just pulled on your new knit bathing suit for the first time, we suggest a quick trip after a phone call to Hightstown 2-217.

At Slenderette (air-conditioned, and free parking) you receive a figure analysis and one free treatment, after which you will probably want to have more treatments. This consists of two or more visits a week until your particular problem is solved. This may take three months (average) or it may take a year, if your density is high.

Treatment consists of a bicycle—one of those stationary things (you can ride to Hightstown in a car if you want to)—and a Battle Creek heating pad. You will shake your up like a dalmatian. The specialty of the house is a contoured table that rolls up and down under you while you lie on top of it.

Doing this seven times a minute, with a heavier degree of pressure after you've gotten used to it. We understand that this is soothing enough to put you to sleep, but we have made no direct laboratory tests.

The whole works takes an hour, including the 40 minutes on the Contoured table. Slenderette is open five days a week from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m., except Saturday. Hilma Sudyan, whom you may recall from her association with Margaret Jeffries' hairdressing salon here in Princeton.

Prices at Slenderette are reasonable. Just ask yourself, "What have I got to lose?"

Cox's Boxes. When a store carries absolutely everything that's manufactured, it's difficult to describe any one piece of stock as "new." At the moment it's picnic season, and on the theory that there may be some housewife who has not heard of Cox's Store, 182 Nassau, we are about to tell what Cox has for the picnickers.

The main thing that Cox has is a fine set of weekend hours: 7:30 a.m. to 9 p.m. on Saturday (and every weekday), and 7:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Sundays. This means that it really does not matter if you forgot to buy charcoal: Cox is open, and Cox has it. Films for the camera? They're here, too.

Eat and Be Cool

Country dining always sounds like a good idea on a warm summer evening or a sleepy Sunday noon.

Take a drive any weekend over the Lincoln Highway to Hightstown, just beyond Hightstown (Tony has an airfield, too, as you know, but at the moment we're in a convertible, top down).

The Applegarth has a new air-conditioning system to dry you off in a hurry. Drinks and food are first rate and the specialities are excellent. There is music as cool as the air, and an atmosphere that is most urban for a country location.

The Cranberry Inn, on Main Street, in Cranbury, is a good old inn with such a country air that you expect to see stage-coaches waiting outside. Inside there is a bar, a lounge, a sitting room so that you may drink and eat in relaxation and comfort.

Why not turn off your own air-conditioning and keep cool with somebody else's? (Eating somebody else's good cooking is a good idea, too.)

In the boxes and on the shelves you will find knives, forks, spoons, plates and cups—all paper. There are olives, pickles, potato chips, pretzels, nuts, bread and the Sunday "Times."

And way in the back there is a revolving rack of paper-back books, one of which is "The Tragedies of Shakespeare."

Out Off the Heat. Matchabelli, Coty and their various colleagues have a vested interest in keeping you cool this summer, and this summer Thornc's Drug Store, 168 Nassau, is interested, too.

Matchabelli christens his offering "Summer Shower," and puts the name on a spray mist that comes in an aerosol container. For a dollar, you may have four ounces of cologne or four bars of soap. There is an anti-perspirant spray and a stick deodorant, all with the "Summer Shower" label.

Coty likes combinations. Take a lipstick and liquid rouge, offer them together for $1.75 when they are really worth it, and you'll keep any customer cool. Toilet water in an atomizer should cost $2.50 but is offered for 75¢.

Yardley goes even farther and combines to infinity. In fact, you really ought to look at the chart for yourself. All we know is that you may have nothing powder end

FIRST CONCERT

Community Band to Play Friday. The first in a series of three concerts planned for the summer season by the Princeton Community Band will be given Friday evening at 7:30. The public is invited to attend without charge on the campus in front of Nassau Hall.

Bruce McKinney, who has been responsible for organizing the community venture on the theory that "most people have an opportunity to listen to music on a warm summer evening," will conduct. He will lead some 50 musicians from the Princeton area, following the completion of twice-weekly rehearsals at Princeton High School.

Friday's program will open with the "Guadalcanal March," written for the motion picture "Victory at Sea" by Richard Rogers. Selections from the current Broadway hit, "My Fair Lady," will follow.

Next on the program will be the "First Suite in E-flat" by George Gershwin's "Cavalcade of Sweet Death." The concert will conclude with "Proud Heritage" by Lathem; David Bennett's "Broadway from Brazil"; and "Quality Parision" by Jacques Offenbach.

The band's first appearance was made at the entertainment program preceding the July 4th fireworks last week in Palmer Stadium. The public is invited to attend the rehearsals as well as the concerts, with the former held each Tuesday and Thursday evenings at 7:45 in the band room of the high school.

The band is expecting for its first season a budget slightly in excess of $100. In addition to private donations, $50 has been provided by the Borough of Princeton.

News Of The Theatres

MURRAY THEATRE

Fine Production, Thornton Wilder's "The Skin of Our Teeth" is being given a splendid showing by the University Players for their summer stock. From 8:30 p.m. through Saturday night with 8:30 p.m. performances in the air-conditioned Murray Theatre.

In this production, one may push the script to its limits of meaning for the present. "The Skin of Our Teeth" is, after all, on the surface, a new technique of plot allegory. If Mr. Wilder borrowed his central plot ideas from "Waiting for Godot," he may take the hereafter with the rest of his loot. His cyclical view of history is shoddy in detail and treatment, and the central point of inquiry will never approach that of "Waiting for Godot" and the other more adequate developments from James Joyce.

However, Mario Siletti handled the play purely in terms of the theatre, and the result for University Players was a success. In direction, and the extraordinarily successful efforts of the technical staff, brought off technical effects the like of which they had not seen, and at once on opening night in the Murray for a summer.

The complexity of the staging and lighting, the credit should be shared by all for an imaginative effort. Not only are costumes, lighting, props, etc., hard for comedy, but the actors, too, people must handle multiple roles. Mr. Siletti controlled all well.

The cast had a high uniformity, and Ruth Williams as May Constance conveyed a few extra moments of poignancy, and Mr. Williams did an outstanding scene when he lacked the expressiveness of his Cain role in the third act. His round of applause was deserved.

Michael Ryan certainly offered variety and interest, carrying in his performance as George Anthrobus, Mr. Wilder's odd perennial. He earned attention with the "out of the fire" scene, and others, however, there is a possible element of masterful command which wasn't part of his presentation.

In a particularly complex role, Neil Duncan succeeded in conveying (attractively) the eternal tempestress and her unfeeling, unfeeling, cold-minded human. She and Donald Moffat conquered one of the play's hardest problems when they successfully made the sudden transitions from "drama" to the reality of the theatre audience seem sensible, important, and well handled.

There was lots of fun in a supporting cast. Phillip Minor as Tremayne, and Mr. Moffat and Joseph Bird in various connections were among those outstanding in this category.

In sum, the Players made the meaning of Mr. Wilder's play all too available, though production was well coordinated. It's also very true that many very amusing things happen in "Skin of Our Teeth" indeed, and it makes a good play about the start and end of the world? Probably the question is unimportant so far as the good production at Murray Theatre is concerned.

Does it make a very good play about the start and end of the world? Probably the question is unimportant so far as the good production at Murray Theatre is concerned.

For the Princeton Community Band. The sum was voted. The governing body welcomed a letter from Mrs. Leslie Vivian, 52 Julian Road, calling for shade trees in the Shopping Center area of Harrison Street.

Rateable Loss Given

The Princeton Township Committee revealed this week that at least 10 percent of the property to be inundated if the proposed Stony Brook reservoir is built will result in tax assessments to the municipality of $72,300. The sum represents $40,300 in buildings, $32,000 in land and $18,000 in personal property.

The Committee's figures were part of a statement by Senator Dumont asking that due protection be granted present and future residents against "the loss of their water." The committee felt strongly that industrial need for water should not be given priority over residential requirements of the Princeton area.

In addition to assessing every Township taxpayer $2.50 for "the inconvenience of having a reservoir in his community" (based on the per capita loss in dollars), the other undesirable developments would follow construction of the reservoir, it stressed particularly the loss of "this beautiful section of Princeton," road replacement problems and increased difficulty in serving a population dependent on a supply of water and aesthetic damage to property owners near the reservoir site with no hope of compensation.

Senator Dumont's committee asserted firmly, "is not something that is measured in dollars," native to creating two new reservoirs.

Mr. VanDeventer declared that only a quarter of the 100 million-gallon daily allotment from the canal is being used at present. It was his suggestion that a series of dams built across the Musconetcong and Raritan Rivers and the small reservoirs they would create be filled with canal water. He said his suggestion was subject to a check by state engineers but asserted it was wholly practical. In addition to providing Somerset, Hunterdon and Mercer Counties with a supply of reliable water, Mr. VanDeventer felt his plan would preserve both Mercer County farmland and residential properties. He said, "It is not only was New Jersey an industrial state and that Mercer County was instrumental in the search for industrial sites, but also that water benefits should be provided at the direct expense of home owners."

The possibility that a vast supply of underground water in the Millstone and Bear Brook areas was being overlooked was drawn to the committee's attention. So were the findings of a report from an existing supply to Round Valley (already owned by the State) and a dam along the Delaware north of Trenton as a joint project with Pennsylvania.

The latter proposal will receive the committee's attention early next month, since Senator Dumont has indicated he believes we must go to the Delaware eventually." But next month is August, thus postponing further any recommendation. The hearing committee may return to a special session of the Legislature—which must be called in order to place the proposal on the ballot.

Senator Dumont's comment met the close of the hearing, however, struck what might well be the current keynote: "Already there has been too much talk and too much time lost."

MORE HOMES PLANNED

Developments at Princetonville. Plans are now on the drawing board which call for a start in the next future of a high-rise housing development on the Fackler Road-Princeton Pike tract just purchased as a part of Princetonville Residential Park.

The tract represents approximately 101 acres of the 539 optioned to Blackwell Smith, 500 Mercer Road, and Lee Jarrell, 150 Mercer Road, at a price reported to be $300,000. The seller is E. O. Kling of Lawrence Township.

The housing involved will place undeveloped homes on the tract, set on lots of one and one-half acres each. Mr. Smith said this week that he expected to present the plans to Lawrence authorities before the end of the month.

The other three parcels in the sale, totaling well over 400 acres, are to be sold to firms for industrial purposes under a guiding plan of unified development.

The land involved is apparently four miles from Princeton.

Negotiations with interested companies are in process.

COURT ACTION

Drunk Driver cited. Roland Taylor, 61 Leigh Avenue, was fined a total of $265 with an alternative of 45 days in the county workhouse by Magistrate Paul R. Chesbro, this morning. The charges included drunken driving.

Mr. Taylor, 42, was also found guilty of driving alone with only learner's permit. He had no license and suspended his Magistrate Cheshero noted a medical report indicating the presence of .3 percent of alcohol.

Judgment was put over until next week on a case involving disorderly conduct charges against four youths. They were charged with disturbing the peace and using obscene language on Saturday night at the home of Mrs. Sarah Voorhees, 11 Marvel Place.

Three of the defendants, Frederick Cavanagh, Brunswickville Pike; Thomas O'Kane, Mt. Sprint Street; and Robert Ross Jr., 69 Broad Lane, entered places of no public, while the fourth, Louis Rossi Jr., 285 Snowdean Lane, was not present in court. All are 18 and 19.

The testimony taken at Tuesday's lengthy hearing included complaints of noise made by the youths; evidence that the radio was playing "rock 'n' roll" music; a statement that the Morven Park residence was a complete shambles; and that liquor was present. Sgt. Peter J. McCrino said that on six previous police visits to the house, persons had jumped out of doors, one of whom was drunk. Medical evidence concerning Mrs. Voorhees was introduced.

Judge Cheshero also fined David John Gosselin, 18, of 201 Broad Street, $15 and suspended a 30-day sentence on a charge of being drunk and disorderly. The offence occurred June 15 and involved Princeton alumni.

Princeton Court Action: James Craig, 18, of 58 Wilson Street, Trenton, received a sentence of 30 days in the Mercer County Workhouse in Township Court Tuesday night. Magistrate Louis R. Gerber presided.

Craig was charged with assaulting Julius F. Cross, 18, of 268 John Street on June 21 at John Street and Leigh Avenue.

Fines included: One of $10 against Helen Miller, 27, of failure to dispose of personal property; $10; and W. E. Pittman, 21, of 182 Hale Street, New Brunswick, speeding, $35.

ENOUGH IS ENOUGH! Both Mrs. Gerald Nelson, a customer, and Arnold Ropelik, a grocer, agree unanimously on one thing: New Jersey does not have a general sales tax. Mrs. Nelson says her check-out slip figures everything costs plenty already. Mr. Ropelik insists such a tax would be unjust as well as inconvenient. Some others share their sentiments, as indicated in Question of the Week below. (Town Topics Photo by Alan Richards)

Question of the Week

Question: Would you object if New Jersey followed the lead of many other states and decided to raise funds through a general sales tax?

Location: The Food Mart, 20 Witherspoon Street, Princeton

Grover Marshall, 46 Spring Street, instructor at Princeton University: I think I would. Not that I would object to paying it, but I would object to it being plain. I don't see general sales taxes in taxes that hit everyone—regardless of income—the same way.

Mrs. Gerald Nelson, 210 Elm Road, homemaker: Yes. It's an awful inconvenience and don't we have enough taxation already? Re-assessment really hurt a lot of people, and I feel some citizens are being taxed excessively—I mean plenty. I don't know what good purpose such a tax would be for, but I think we've enough!

Arnold Ropelik, Trenton grocer: From the merchants' point of view, I figure it would be unfair. We deal with so many people who come from sales tax states that, if anyone, they would be almost incident. Those pennies add up—I know—and soon dollars would be missing from pay checks. Also, it would prove tremendous inconvenience for customers, this I have heard from citizens in Pennsylvania and New York. Of course, this can't be compared to the monetary inconvenience of customers.

Mrs. Max Zitter, 100 Nassau, co-proprietor of stationery store: Yes. I would object. I think stores are high already—with another tax added. Anyhow, our state government should be able to get along efficiently without adding another tax.

James Hostenkirk, Plainsboro, liquor store clerk: I certainly would. After seeing our property taxes, I definitely think the state is getting ample loot. People resent paying extra money for sales taxes, though they don't mind so much if the taxes are "hidden" in some established amount. A sales tax would be embarrassing to merchants—as well as a tough bookkeeping problem—and a pain in the neck to buyers.

Mrs. Wilbur Morse Jr., 120 Prospect Avenue, Princeton: I guess it would depend on what it was raised for and how it was being spent. I wouldn't enjoy paying such a tax—we're already taxed enough!

Michael Duvin, White Horse, brewer-saler: I don't know what I have to say. I think I'm paying enough—to much—already. I want to ask a question myself: how come wages don't go up every time the tax goes up? Well, if I am talking to a partial man, I'm sure because I'm paying money to Trenton for water during the water shortage and I can't afford to pay more. I have not gotten along without a sales tax so far and it can continue to do so.

Jane McLean, Skillman, senior clerk in New York City: It certainly would bring up expenses, and naturally one objects to spending more money. I'm used to living with such a tax in New York, where there seems to be more government waste than here. I'm afraid it's inevitable for all states, however.

LOTS OF CHESS PIECES, NO OPPONENTS: C. W. P. Silvester of 50 Princeton Avenue now owns 67 exquisite chess sets from many countries and periods. His collection, probably one of the most complete in the United States, is crowned by a stunning chess board with inlaid wood dating back to 1587.

CHESS IN MANY LANDS

Collector Now Owns 67 Sets — One of the most unusual collections in America — and one of the most complete and beautiful of its kind — can be found at the home of George W. P. Silvester at 50 Princeton Avenue.

Mr. Silvester, who served his apprenticeship as a collector of clocks, is now the owner of 67 perfect examples of sets from 41+ many different countries and periods. This collection has been created mostly within the last dozen years, after Mr. Silvester began collecting chess sets. He was expert at that, too. When he stopped, he had 280 ironface clocks alone, to say nothing of his other collections. The knight's heads start on clocks, though, being engaged in the clock repair business in Princeton until his retirement five years ago.

Some of the finest objects in the chess sets he has found in a number of European cities when the Silvesters went abroad in 1954, but the trip nevertheless showed Mr. Silvester that New York and Philadelphia are among the best cities in the world for hunting such sets.

Seeing the beautifully-arranged and carefully-treated collection makes it obvious that each set represents a patient hunt for the most perfect pieces. Mr. Silvester has looked at and rejected numerous sets before selecting the ones to be included in his collection.

One of the most delightful sets was carved by Eskimos in Alaska before the United States bought the territory from Russia. The bishops are evil-looking Russians, while the king and queen are made of wood. Each is 8 inches. The knights are walruses, and all the pawns are huskies.

A beautiful set brought in from China. It depicts figures, carved by a Napoleonic soldier while imprisoned. Venice yielded a set made from alabaster and a love of horned monkeys of ivory and mother-of-pearl, inlay. In Interlaken, Switzerland — famous as a highly developed leatherworking section — Mr. Silvester found a delicately colored, beautifully carved set with all the pieces representing Crusaders.

Almost 500 Years Old. The greatest find of the European journey was a fantastic box and board found in Lucerne, Switzerland. The chess set enclosed in the box was not particularly old or beautiful, but the box and the board both date from 1587, and were made entirely by a master-craftsman, judging from the quality and delicacy of the inlaid woodwork. The box has two secret drawers, and the hinges are engraved with symbols of the period.

The scope and variety of ingenuity and beauty to be found in chess sets are described in a short space, but some of the variations may be mentioned. One set, carved in 1720 for a German prince, had crocodile shapes, crocodiles, and elephants flank the king and queen instead of the bishops. One set is made up of Vikings carrying swords and spears, all made of solid silver in Germany around the turn of the last century.

One set signifies the epochal change in warfare by including

Help for the Friendless.

To the Editor of TOWN TOPICS:

I have a home for friendless dogs on a hill-farm in southern Indiana. Sometimes, when our needs get the better of our ability, we ask help of those who do. Will you be so good as to publish this list of things we need most for the 45 dogs we have here now? We find that often people can give us things which they are glad to send:

Food of any sort or food supplement for the basic oatmeal, cornmeal or powdered dog food; even oil; vitamins; wheat germ; yeast tablets; old towels and blankets; flea powder.

Just about anything can find a use here, if the amount is too small to be applicable and to have our everlasting gratitude.

Fundamental issue.

To the Editor of TOWN TOPICS:

It's hard to get serious about some problems, but I think the time has come to talk about the tourist's right to "public conveniences" here in Princeton.

I laughed when Sgt. Applegate spotlighted the problem a while back, but since then I've been traveling more often. Every time I tell you, "public conveniences" are lifelines. If people only thought about the subject in human terms!

To arouse public opinion, I propose two courses of action. First, that each Princetonian who suffers the Tourist's Trauma while visiting the town should be required to give up at least one thought to the plight of visitors right in their own home town. And, second, that Princeton's business leaders be asked to recognize their self interest in the comfort of the many visitors to this interesting community.

More and more tourists will visit Princeton in the years to come (assuming that's what they can get here). Should we unwillingly make them suffer? No, for this is an evident case for public action on a fundamental if minor issue.

Company Aids Hospital Drive. The American Cyanamid Company recently contributed $5,000 to Princeton Hospital's $42,000 expansion program. Robert P. Polk, manager of the company's Princeton plant, presented the check to John W. Kaufman, hospital administrator.

Those participating in the presentation were: H. B. Ballou, Cyanamid Farm and Home Division manufacturing manager; Clifford D. Silverd, assistant general manager; and George R. Griswold, chairman of the business section committee of the Princeton Hospital Fund.

The Princeton plant was singled out by the American Cyanamid Company for its record of merit and a special safety award given by the National Safety Council. The plant, which operated without a disabling or lost-time injury throughout 1957, received a Certificate of Achievement by the Manufacturing Chemists' Association.

Crackdown On Litterbugs

In compliance with "crack-down orders" issued by Governor Robert B. Meyner, State Police have been asked to enforce strictly the law against persons who throw debris from moving vehicles.

It was pointed out that during the past two months, especially over weekends, the grass lawns and embankments of highways in the state have been littered with bottles, cans, cartons and papers thrown from moving vehicles. The resulting application of brakes or sudden swerving of vehicles can cause accidents resulting in injury or serious injury.

The fine for littering can be as high as $50 and/or 15 days in jail. The operator of a motor vehicle is held accountable for the action of his passengers, State Police said.

To Discuss Capital Punishment

The Princeton Branch of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom will discuss capital punishment at its next meeting. The discussion will be held Thursday, July 18, at 8:15 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Cyrus Young, 38 Hawthorne Avenue.

The purpose of this discussion is to present the facts and introduce Princetonians with background information on the question. More detailed study of "capital punishment" in New Jersey will be made at a later meeting.

Summer Session at Hun. A program of instruction tailored to the requirements of each student will be offered at the Hun School's summer sessions which opened Monday. The school will continue for a six-week period ending August 13.

Open to boys from high schools and preparatory schools, the program offers instruction either individually or in small groups. English, Algebra, Geometry, French, Latin, Spanish and History are taught either for review or for remedial work.

SET FOR SOFTBALL SHOWDOWN: When Drake's Plumbing & Heating meets the Nassau Social Club at Laughlin Field next Tuesday evening, blue chips will be riding on the outcome—with NSC realizing victory over the home team. Drake's crew, left to right, is No. 10, Ted Drake, manager of Drake's, and current captain; No. 11, Jim Kahn, manager of the Nassau Social Club; and No. 12, Jim Kahn, NSC playing shortstop and hitting well over .300, and Jim Kahn, NSC co-manager playing second and also batting .300 plus. To set the stage for the showdown encounter, Drake's won the nine-game name of the season and NSC captured seven out of nine. (Alan Richards Photo)

SPORTS In Princeton

21 IN A ROW

'Fifties Win Again at Henley. The Thames Challenge Cup, the most important rowing race, was successfully defended last week at Henley, England, by Princeton's 150-lb. crew. None of the four opponents the "Tigers" defeated in the race can compare to the Orange and Black entry, although at one point in the final, the National Provincial Bank crew of London was within six yards of the victors with 400 yards to go.

Rowing a miles and 5/16 on successive days starting Wednesday, Princeton defeated, in order, the Canadian Royal Yacht Club of London, the Watford Boat Club, the Royal Air Force crew and the eight representing the National Provincial Banks. Times varied from 6:33 to 7:01, the latter recorded by the final against stiff headwind. Princeton's 1953 crew held the course record for the Thames Cup—6:45.

The Tiger lightweights have won 21 straight races over a total of 30 opponents. A Princeton win-by-150-lb. crew last was beaten on May 14, 1955.

The coxswain of the victorious eight was Peter Alsop, son of Mr. Alsop, a retired engineer of nearby Middlebush. The family formerly lived in Princeton on Springfield Road.

DIZZY WHIRL

Five-Team Race a Circus. The five-team fracas in the National League could make any forecast of the September finish look good or bad, depending on which way the spin-ups were made. By tradition, however, a mid-season check is always taken on a basis of the standings at the end play on July 1. For Tom Brophy, manager of the Sherman and Bodie fans, his April forecast of the end of an era was becoming all too accurate.

The Dodgers, who must out on the pennant quest, had a spin and, by now, the Bums were in the middle of the act for all to see. Tom picked them as winners-up, but if the handiwork they were doing at the break for the annual All-Star Game, they could do no better than top second division.

FROM THE GARDEN STATE

Oh, happy day! It's sweet-corn-eating time!

New Jerseyans can rejoice that the season for the Garden State's bumper crop of sweet corn has arrived.

And here is even more wonderful news. The corn you eat tonight probably was picked between midnight and day today. What's more, it was delivered directly from the Garden State farmer to your favorite grocer, chain store.

New Jersey sweet corn cannot be surpassed. It's delicious! And it's nutritious, too, because all the precious sugars are preserved, thanks to the quick delivery from the fields to your table.

When buying fruits and vegetables, ask the man: "Jersey?" Help yourself to the riches of the Garden State.

pennant-winning era of Dizzy and Daffy Dean, the resurgence of Vugie Bond Marsh will combine to make St. Louis a strong possibility, Tom feels. Along the same lines, he points out that good rookies (Ed Bouchee, Harry Anderson, Jack Sosford, Don Cardwell) have given the Phillies a big boost in the stretch run.

After an unanticipated burst by the Chicago White Sox and a lethargic six weeks dealt to the Yankees, the American League has begun to fall into its normal pattern. Tom's only glaring fault in his analysis is that he believes it is to have pegged the Detroit Tigers three places higher than they are. "I figured all those young players—Kalin, Kuhn, Maxwell, and so on—would help me give the Yankees a buster, but I may have been wrong," he said.

Baltimore and Washington are racing in the standings as he forecast them, and now he is about on target in the American League. Meanwhile, there are some 77 games left for each of the 16 teams, and the end of September, the Yankee-Brave World Series that Tom forecast may be all set to begin.

SISLER A FIXTURE

Princetonian Set for Boston. If there were more pitchers in the American League who had the ability to beat the Yankees that 25-year old Dave Sisler has shown, the race in the junior circuit would not have developed into a race against the runaway that has marked virtually every year of the present decade.

In his two years on the major league scene, the former Princetonian has beaten the world champions five times for the Boston Red Sox and has yet to lose to them. His overall record with an entry not good enough to rank as a post-season competitor in the two seasons is 16 and 12, and in 1956 he was named to the Rookie All-Star team chosen by The Sporting News, known as the "Baseball Bible."

Sisler turned back the Yankees twice last season and then duplicated the feat within a week just after the 1956 campaign began. His hitting record on Boston's pitching staff did not send him against the Bombers again until the first game of the July 4 doubleheader at the Yankee Stadium. His opponent was Bob Shantz, who had eight home runs, his tenth victory of the season into the books just before the schedule reached the mid-way point.

Schmitz almost had it wrapped up with the Yankees took a 2-1 lead into the ninth, but by this time, Casey Stengel was of the opinion that the heat was too much for the former Athletics ace. But Schmitz held him on the mound. It required a two-out, pinch-hit homer by Mickey Vernon to give Sisler a 3-2 victory, but the blow left the Yankees still looking for their first triumph over the one-time Ivy League.

Fine Career Here. From the time Jim Hinch played for Princeton (posting a 6-0 record and an earned run average of 0.37) until he brought a premature end to his career by signing with the Red Sox, he was a topnotch athlete. He helped Princeton win the District II NCAA title in his sophomore year and after the Tigers had been eliminated in the national championships at Omaha, beat Harvard in a postponed game that gave Princeton the LITTLE CHANGER. Tall and thin, Dave Sisler looks to TV viewers today surprisingly much like the Princeton undergraduate who signed with the Red Sox for a reported $40,000.

Eastern League Title

He was an All-Ivy selection in basketball (also playing in a championship Ivy team in 1953) and at the end of a two-year career, he became captain. By that time, he had a two-year record of 13 and 4 and a sparkling earned run average of 1.23.

Sisler never represented Princeton in athletics again, a proposed change in the major league bonus rule necessitating his signing in December of his senior year if he were to receive the $40,000 offered by Tom Yawkey of the Red Sox. Once he did so, his professional status made him ineligible for amateur college play.

In late June of 1953, after graduating from Princeton's tough School of Engineering with honors, Dave was sent to Atlanta, Georgia, to serve a lengthen farm club. The Red Sox management was ready to place him with Louisville, just one step away from the majors, but Sisler felt he'd see more action at a lower level.

His estimate of the situation could have been accurate; in the last three months of the season, Dave started 20 games. "I was really dragging after that was over," he commented, "but it was the smartest decision I'd ever made in baseball."

Army and Then the Red Sox.

With that experience behind him, Sisler went into the Army for two years, playing a variety of baseball and basketball while stationed at Fort Meade, Md. In the spring of 1956, when his days in service were nearly over, Major Jerry Higgins asked him to report to the Red Sox camp at Sarasota, Fla.

Theoretically, Dave should have had a year's additional seasoning — this time with San Francisco, —Continued on Page 20 the Sox top farm club. But an early three-long swing against the world champion Dodgers plus repeated indication of unusual poise on the mound, convinced management that he was big league material right then.

Although the three-month stretch with Albany and two years of amateur intervening did little early career damage, close to matching that of the great Ted Lyons. The former White Sox star is today one of the few players left who ever came from a college campus direct to the major leagues and stay there.

Son of George Sisler, one of the top hitting stars of all-time and now a member of the Hall of Fame, and brother of George Jr., (now general manager of Rochester and Dick Sisler, who in 1950 caused the Phillies to a pennant under the former), Dave has had baseball in his blood from the time he was old enough to play in the neighborhood.

He was tabbed as a pitcher as a little boy, because he could always throw pretty hard and his eyesight was against him as a batter. The exacting concern that was always associated with the older members of the family, plus Dave's eagerness to learn and will to win did the rest.

If there was any particular reason for Sisler's success, he has suppressed without thought of taking credit for his quick rise from Ivy League to major league. "My father," he comments in master-of-fact fashion, "expects me to do well."

Autographical Note

Charlie Price of 10 Bayard Lane, a well-known magazine writer whose specialty is golf articles and who has described the reactions of many famous golfers to their shots, has shot, fired such a singleton himself last Saturday afternoon a perfect stroke on Springfield's Maywood park's 13th hole. It was Price's first hole-in-one, after 19 years on the links as golfer and author, and he was delighted about it. Through his golf partner, he the difficult double-eagle, he once scored on an Atlantic City course.

Making the rounds with Price, who finished the day with a one-over-par 73, were Scotty and Bob Hart, All three partners said the hole had been a "hole-in-one" moments after it left the tee—a direct hit. It was the fourth one registered by Springfield competitors this season.

With upwards of 150 in attendance,

Behind the pitching of Tom Volz and Guy Wirsing, the National League midgets racked up a 4-0 triumph. Tom aided his cause by driving in two runs in the sixth, fourth, fourth and fifth innings. Dan Corvin barked for the American League.

Other players were Steve Nease, Mac Cullum, Al Becker, George Tucker, Jim Norris, Jim Thompson, Gary Blaedell, John Lane, Jim Sassaman and Bob Decker for the American League. Dan Dyer, Buddy Britton, George Smith, Mike Sweeney, Pete Johnson, Stanley Palmer and Bruce Olson for the American League.

The Bowers-Nassau Oil team won, 6-3, with the biggest extra-base hits going to Julius Cross, who tripled, and Tom Petrone, who had a home run. The pitchers taking part were Petrone, Jack Hawkins, Bruce Sandvik, Dave Bydenburgh, Pete Rogers and Art Barnes.

Other pitching action were Arnold Sklar, Larry Underwood, Carmen Stefanelli, Ronald Morgan, Alan Gies, Rickie Hurford, Leon Verner, Mike McNamee, Bob Campbell, Tony Bocentoski, Norman Cantor, Don Rose, Bob Lippmann and Archie Freeman, the opening game being a game of no hits and defeat. Matthews 2-1, as Hawkins bested Bydenburgh in a mound duel and Petrone went three for three for Bowers. Rogers taking the victory and Sandvik the loss.

WOMEN'S TENNIS MONDAY
Mrs. Bayer to Defend Title. The fifth in the series of community tennis tournaments staged each year by the Playgrounds Committee will be Monday at 5:15. Women of the Princeton area will compete for the singles title which Mrs. Peggy L. Bayer is expected to defend.

Other competitors should include Mrs. Barbara Sawyer, Mrs. Frances Hather, Mrs. Alice Tucker, Mrs. Louise White, Mrs. Jane Wilmerding, Mrs. Joan McCall, Miss Anne Harrison, Miss Jane Bachelder and Miss Virginia Hutchinson. Entries may be made through the tournament director, Joseph Bachelder, 10 Bayard Hill Street, and at the YMCA, 120 John Street.

Men's singles play progressed this week, with Ken Wilson, seeded first, defeating William Bobo in four sets and Irwin Thompson trimming Pierrepont, 6-4. Vas is seeded second.

Other results: Jack Ferm defeated Ralph Fox, 6-4; Jon Devereux beat Fred Koenig, 6-4; Paul Vas won over Guy Woodward by default.

H&L LEADS LOOP

POSTS Perfect Record. By virtue of their stellar play to date, with four games remaining, the softball representatives of the Linden Loops this week looked like "show-ins" for the 1957 Firemen's Baseball League title. Up to that point (not including) this week's round of competition, H&L forces had won eight straight games for a perfect slate so far this summer.

Hopewell (5-2) held the runner-up position this week, figures having better chance to catch the league-leaders than the rest of the loop because the Hopewell firefighters still have one more game to play than most of the other clubs. In third place in the FBL (with 5-3 marks) were

Princeton Engine Company No. 1 and Belle Mead, last season's top two clubs, while rounding out the standings, were Princeton Junction (2-4), Lawrenceville (1-6) and Blawenburg (0-9).

PAC KEEPS WINNING
Record Now 7-1. A 9-4 record and win over Princeton Junction and an 8-5 defeat of summer-up Montgomery Township kept the Princeton Athletic Club firmly atop the standings in the Tri-County Baseball League. Manager Charlie Perpetua's entry now looks even better than its eight games this season.

The failure of the Junction nine to field a team in its last four games has created an unusual situation which may hamper completion of the schedule. It has been made clear, however, that the other three entries—South Brunswick is the fourth—will carry on and teams are already on the way to strengthen the circuit next season.

A fast start Tuesday night gave PAC all the impetus it needed to top Montgomery on the latter's lineup. Clusters of three runs in the first and second rounds were supplemented by eight runs in the fifth and sixth for the 8-5 triumph.

Perpetua's team had a hard, long all the way and setting his season's record at 2-0. Warren Huff was the siege gun, landing out a double, triple and home run in three trips to the plate. Alan Annino made two of the visitors' nine safeties.

South Brunswick will be here Friday for a game on Brookwood Field. Contests start at 6:15.

ANNIVERSARY SHOW
Turner Marks 40th. The Orren Jack Turner Anniversary Show will mark the 40th anniversary on Nassau Street with a retrospective exhibition of 100 photographs. The show will be open from 10 to 5 daily, starting Saturday and continuing through July 27 at the studios at 121 Nassau Street.

The show, exhibited in seven distinct sections according to subject, was directed by Doris L. Armistead, for many years a member of the faculty of the Parsons School of Design in New York and Paris. One hundred prints will have received honors from state or national salons range from a high key study of Agnes Moorehead in white furs (1927) to a low key nude made this year.

The course of 40 years involved is shown by the changing trend in photography as well as in dress. The low-key approach of the Twenties, with a single source of light, is supplanted by the diffused image of the Thirties, the sharper focus of the later war years, and the high key war years in the Fifties.

The studies of men include an etching portrait of Dr. George Shultz of Princeton, one of Warren G. Harding, a handsome portrait from the earliest years of Colonel William Libby and a contrast in the modern treatment of Governor Robert E. Meyner in a seated three-quarter view.

There are 17 prints in the children's section and 14 in the adult portion. The changes in style are particularly evident in the varying portraits of brides. The latest are deft and elegant, with perhaps more "glamour" and less romance than those of earlier date. The women's section is the largest in the exhibition.

Orren Jack Turner first established his studio in 1917 in a small room over 68 Nassau Street, later demolished. The studio was twice moved, but has been at its present location at 121 Nassau for the past three decades.

Jacob B. Lutz came into the firm in 1932 and ultimately took over the darkroom department; the arrival of Orren Jack Turner Jr. joined the studio. In 1946 they became partners and the following year, Orren Jack Turner "began to retire".

MERIWELL READY OPEN HOUSE Planned. The Princeton community has been invited to attend an open house at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. John D. and Bayard L. Meriwell on July 20 and 21, from 12 noon to 4 p.m. This will be the first public inspection of the new long-term nursing unit at 79 Bayard Lane.

The invitation to visit Meriwell, the new Elsie Procter Matthews unit of Princeton Hospital, has been issued by Dr. John H. Wallace Jr., president of the hospital's board of trustees.

Meriwell was once the Graduate College residence, and later the home of the Right Rev. Paul Matthews, bishop of New Jersey. It will house 42 guests and is designed specifically to provide an attractive home for elderly persons as well as the chronically ill, with the added factors of medical supervision and security.

A new two-story wing has been added to the original gabled structure which is centered in nine building lots covering six acres. The effect of the wings has been to lend symmetry to the building, which has fine old trees and shrubs which have not been touched. The great area of privacy together with the easy access and facilities of the cultural and social affairs of Princeton are expected to be a major point of appeal to potential residents.

INSTITUTE OF THEOLOGY

Bishop's Players to Participate. A novel feature of this year's Institute of Theology at the Princeton Theological Seminary will be the participation of the Bishop's Players, a repertory troupe from California. The players specialize in religious drama and have made quite a reputation for themselves in the past few years.

Members of the troupe will play a dual role in the program. They will, first, participate in "refresher courses" in Bible study and current theological problems. They will, on the one hand, present a number of readings, lectures, and entertainment, and the benefit of the other participants in the Institute. On the other hand, the players will follow the course of studies in the Institute in order to gain a theological background.

More than 250 ministers and Christian laymen have registered and will continue until July 18. Members of the Princeton community are invited to the meetings and may enroll for the courses.

Ten New Commandments. A youth leader of the Seventh-Day Adventist Church has organized "Ten Commandments for Teen-Agers of the Adventists" fifth annual summer conference. Some 200 adults, young people and children participated in the camp meeting on the Adventists' 187-acre campsite in Kingston.

The Zykronoff, director of youth activities of the New England Conference of Adventists, proposed the following "ten commandments" at a special meeting for teenagers:

1. Thou shall have good, clean Christian fun-tots of it.
2. Thou shall have many friends.
3. Thou shall think of thy body at 15 how it shall be at 60. Treat it accordingly.

4. Thou shall attend church regularly; it shall be as oil on thy troubousome youthful waters.

5. Thou shall not call thy parents "squares" for thou art only raised a few years from parenthood yourself.
6. Thou shall keep the face toward school, for it will make thee wiser than thy unschooled fellows.

7. Thou shall lift up thy voice against all evil; it will make a ruckus in the world.

8. Thou shall keep from becoming a snot or a fusion plate; the Lord disliketh both.
9. Thou shall mix Christian principles in the more with thy daily life.
10. Thou shall not bow thy knee to "Elvis," "Frankie" or "Tab." God alone is worthy of thy worship.

A medical admissions committee consisting of Alfred D. Cunneen, head physician of Merwick, Dr. Edwin D. Rogers, and Dr. Charles H. Place, are currently processing applications for the new hospital. All potential residents are required to have physical examinations.

Birth List. Twenty-four children were born in Princeton Hospital last week, thirteen of them boys.

Sons were born to Mr. and Mrs. Edward M. and Elizabeth Randolph Road; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Vlissides, 16 Prospect Street, Cranbury; Mr. and Mrs. John Strong, 1211 Homestead Avenue; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Rauch, R.D. 1, Monmouth Park; Mr. and Mrs. William Cox, 331 Witherspoon Street; Mr. and Mrs. Michael L. Bolster Jr., 124 Parsonage Drive.

Parents of daughters are Mr. and Mrs. John W. Claghorn, 43 Vandeventer Avenue; Mr. and Mrs. James L. and Mrs. Edie Givings, 101 Broad Street; Mr. and Mrs. Armand Petruillo, Union Street, Kingston; Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Topping, 238 State Road; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Compton, W.H. 11 Broad, Belle Mead; Mr. and Mrs. Gifford L. Spencer 2nd, 3-A Goodman Road; Mr. and Mrs. Donald R. Wilson, Rabell Hill Road, Cranbury; Mr. and Mrs. John Perry, 609 Lake Drive; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Swenden, Bunker Hill Road; and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond A. Martin, 100 Stockton Road.

Mr. and Mrs. James E. Sasseman of Plainsboro are now the parents of three - and one - half month-old boy by adoption.

Community Day Planned. Free theatre tickets will be given shippers in Trenton's Community Day next Thursday, July 18, while nearly 300 stores will offer unusual values for the occasion.

The theatre tickets will be distributed by "Miss Community Day," attractive Carla Huston, who is now staying in "the home" in the Lawrenceville Music Circus. A recent "Miss Montana" in a national beauty contest, Miss Huston will visit a number of stores throughout the day.

Customers will be asked, "What's the slogan for Community Day?" Correct answers will bring a free ticket to the Music Circus or one of the RKO theatres in Trenton. ("The answer is 'It's the greatest!'") Playgrounds Prove Popular. More than 700 children registered at Bayside, a new playground, playgrounds and wading pools during opening week. C. Edward Christian, summer recreation director, reported the start of a successful season.

Among the activities at the Valley Road playground was a hot dog and marshmallow roast. Marshmallows were sold and a competition was held in winning another contest by guessing the number of peas in a jar.

It was "show week" at the Little Lagoon, Schuyler's playground. Events scheduled by Director Vincent O'Brien included a doll contest, a pet show and a hobo contest. A patriotic fashion show held in the Harrison Street Playground resulted in first place ribbons for Christopher Wright, Robert Crook, Rita Sherman and Joann Coughlin. Special awards went to Robert Mills, Clyde Kruskal, Nancy Rollings, Jackie Roberto, Pamela Hanley, Susan Mills and Edward and Margaret Mair.

A kite decoration contest at the high school playground was won by Mark Kieser of Candy Boggs, with Dickie Bell and James Kincaid placing second and Tower Hubbel and Ronald Kingsley third. A special prize for the odd-looking kites was won by Dennis Watson.

John Kraft, manager of the park, was named the most popular kite maker.

A drawing contest at the Harrison Street playground was won by Peter Johnson, George Markman, Carl Donahue, Jimmy and Ariene Panicara. Pat White was a doll contest held at Valley Road, with Yvonne Wooten and Myrna Wooten tying for second and Carol White and Carl Stuker in third place.

Delegate to "ugly Conference." Miss Barbara M. and Mrs. 164 Springdale Road will leave Sunday for a week's conference to be held as a bus trip through Canada. Miss Greta, a member of the Business and Professional Club of the Princeton Y.W.C.A.

The trip is called "The Canadian Camp" and is planned as a "bus tour" to the National Young Adult Conference of the Y.W.C.A. The caravan will travel to Toronto, Ottawa, Montreal and Quebec, ending through the New England states, with stops at various Y.W.C.A. centers.

Miss Green, who works as a secretary in the law office of Albridge C. Smith, 3rd, came to Princeton recently from her native England.

GYPSUM

Your new home can be custom-built and owner
finished this Fall

Our Modular method of home construction makes it possible to erect the shell of your house in two days. Once closed in, your contractor won't be held up by bad weather, thus keeping costs down.

At our showroom, we'll explain how prefabricated sections that are made to fit your house plan will give you a better home...quicker...for less money.

1. kiln-dried Weyerhaeuser lumber.
2. Panels cut on accurate jigs and templates, notches and dadoes to fit together like parts of a machine.
3. BIG THREE building materials:
JAMES MANVILLE, U. S. Gypsum, Weyerhaeuser Forest Products

We'll help you choose your modular home from Cape Cods, Colonials, Ranch Type. Also recommend a competent contractor...and explain how you can do much of the interior work yourself.

SPECIAL SALE
at $29.50

This brick split level is, as they say in the grocery stores, sort of a "workout" sale, i.e., reduced temporarily for quick sale. It's an unusual house—one that would appeal greatly or not at all, depending on individual taste. It's not even an ordinary split level but is built into the side of a hill so that a finished basement room (with laundry) looks out on the pleasant lot, and the garage is also under the house. On the main floor are a large living and dining area with a two-sided fireplace, four bedrooms and two baths. Closet and storage space are ample, and interesting interior use has been made of paneling and brick.

COMFORTABLE COMBINATION
for $35,000

We don't have a combination like this to offer—a nice stone and frame house, near schools, on a prettily landscaped 1/2 acre, with four bedrooms (one so huge it could easily be made into two), two baths, and a realistic price. That about sums up the obvious advantages of the property. Judging by the calls we've had for just such a house, it shouldn't last long. Knowing the liveability of the house, it should not be on the market again for many years.
